Continuing Professional Development

Individuals accredited with the Midland Landlord Accreditation Scheme (MLAS) will be re-accredited after 5 years providing they:

- continue to fulfill the MLAS Terms & Conditions including being a 'Fit and Proper Person' and have complied and continue to comply with the Code of Conduct
- have taken steps to maintain and update their knowledge during the 5 years since Accreditation

The Code of Conduct states that individuals must maintain and improve their knowledge of current relevant legislation and good practice. This is commonly known as 'continuing professional development' (CPD) and the Scheme requires you to gain 50 "points" over the full five year period to satisfy these requirements. It is not intended to be too onerous.

CPD will be awarded for the memberships and activities outlined in table on the following page.

Conditions of obtaining CPD with MLAS:

- Landlords/agents must retain evidence of attendance at events and activities as these may be requested at time of re-accreditation or at "spot checks" - Local Authorities should issue CPD certificates to individuals who participate in their events.
- Landlords need to send their CPD certificates to the scheme to be re-accredited after 5 years has elapsed from their attendance at the MLAS professional development seminar.
- Penalties for provision of false information or mis-recording may include expulsion from MLAS.
- If insufficient CPD undertaken in the 5 years leading up to re-accreditation then the individual will need to reapply for accreditation, attend and pay for the MLAS course.
- A letter of recommendation from a tenant, which includes confirmation that the landlord has complied with the Code of Conduct, may also contribute to CPD. The tenant would need to be willing to provide their contact details and a copy of the signed lease.

Additional activities may be awarded CPD points, but are subject to approval by MLAS. Any requests for CPD to be awarded for activities other than those included above should be submitted in writing the address at the top of this page.

*Note: It is YOUR responsibility to keep a record of your courses and SUBMIT them to MLAS.
